QUAILE AT RIGHT TACKLE FOR YALE

His Physical Condition May Prevent His Starting Against Harvard Saturday.

CRIMSON PLAYS ARE USED

Team Has Final Workout Today—Old Players on the Field.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 15.—Tad Jones made a change in the Yale varsity lineup this afternoon, putting Quaille in at right tackle in place of Diller who was not at the field. Quaille is one of the best line men on the squad, but his physical condition has kept him out of the game for the greater part of the season. Whether he will be started against Harvard Saturday depends a good deal on his ability to go through the remainder of the week in top form. Diller played a strong game against Princeton and it looks as though the position of right tackle would be open until the time of the game. He is taking a brief rest.

Jones is taking no chances of having another accident happen to Blair, the left end, who is expected to play against the Crimson. Blair was at the field today, but he was not used by the varsity in the dummy scrimmage. Hulman who played against the Tigers in his old position, Guernsey, limping a trifle, but less than yesterday, was in his regular place at right guard and the rest of the team lined up as follows: Left end, Hulman; left tackle, Into; left guard, Cruikshank; center, Landis; right guard, Guernsey; right tackle, Quaille; right end, Sturm; quarterback, Hearn; left halfback, Aldrich; right halfback, Jordan; fullback, Mulberry.

On the second team today were many men who are almost sure to get into the Harvard game. Among them were Cross, the guard; Norris, the big center; Herr, last year's guard, who is in better shape than he was a year ago; Deaver, the right end; and Becket, Spelden, Knapp and Wright, in the backfield. Blair went through the line at left end for a short while on the second team, but dropped out early. Special forms of play were used, built on Harvard lines, but there was no tackling.

While the Varsity and second Varsity were going through their soft scrimmage, the third Varsity and the scrubs held a real scrimmage. Mike Eddy, the big end, was on the third team, and gave a good account of himself. He will be in shape to play against Harvard if need be. The third team was directed by Russell Murphy.

The Varsity will have its final workout tomorrow afternoon and it will consist of a long signal drill and a short scrimmage. On Thursday, there will be no work for the team goes to Boston at 2 o'clock. The varsity line will be the scrubs, who have given their services all season for the benefit of the Varsity, will be playing training with a banquet.

Old players on the field this afternoon were George Coes, Ted Lally, Burr Chamberlain, Bill Benar, Babe Allen and Paul Veeder.

Cruise in Backfield On the Navy Eleven.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 15.—Another change was made in the Naval Academy varsity this afternoon. Cruise being placed in the backfield in place of Hamilton. While Cruise is a great defensive player and no fault can be found with his work, Cruise has been doing some fine work as a merit in the regular lineup.

Widora continued at left tackle this afternoon, Bollen playing with the second team. The varsity line was intact. King played through the long signal drill and the following scrimmage without showing the slightest sign of trouble. The scrubs played well, Barchet making a number of long runs.

The scrimmage was one of the longest of the season, and the team is beginning on some of the special plays reserved for the Army game.

Syracuse Practises Dartmouth Formations.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. SYRACUSE, Nov. 15.—Using Dartmouth formations against the Syracuse University first team, the Orange and Blue yearlings were unable to make any progress. Several times the Cub backfield players got off for short gains, but more often the varsity line smashed the players, frequently tossing the runners far behind the line of scrimmage.

Harry Robertson, brother of the Dartmouth leader and coach of the freshman team, was in charge of the yearlings, and he instructed the Orange warriors how to stop his brother Saturday at the Polo Grounds in New York when he comes forward with the team. The line on the famous Dartmouth shift given to the Green by Coach Cavanaugh some years ago and still used by Coach Cannell.

There is no chance of Herbert getting in at quarterback Saturday. It was stated today that he will be in the hospital for more than a month with a broken vertebra suffered in the Colgate game. Anderson called off the signals today and he will be found at quarterback Saturday.

Cornell Gets Every Regular in the Lineup.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. ITHACA, N. Y., Nov. 15.—The Cornell football squad managed to get outdoors this afternoon, the first rainless practice period in many days, the kickers on the varsity field and the main squad on the lower alumni field. A dummy scrimmage with little hard tackling was on the programme. The varsity tried a number of modifications of plays that have formed the basis of the running attack this year, but on account of the slippery ball no forward passing was attempted.

Every regular was in the lineup at the opening. Later Gould was soon substituted for Kaw and Don Post, who distinguished himself when he was substituted at left halfback last Saturday, made a show in the scrimmage. Dobie is experimenting with eight backs, all of whom have a chance to get into the lineup against the Quakers.

THE VETERAN.
His skill was as great as ever;
Still bright with his polished gleam;
But the job and hook
That had jarred and shook
Were lacking their old steam.
Youth struck for the green contender
With force that no skill could tame,
And the veteran knew
That his day was through
By the old time law of the game—
The ancient, immutable,
Fixed, irrefutable,
Hard-and-fast law of the game.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS.
Admitting that it is none of our business, it does seem a pity that Harvard still refuses to number its football players. We are not speaking now from the standpoint of the pleasure and convenience of the public, although in these expensive days there wouldn't be much football if the public didn't pay the bills. But we are looking at it from a different angle. On a recent trip made for the purpose of seeing football eleven in the West, we naturally were asked a good many questions about the sport at Eastern institutions. We remember one conversation with some coaches and officials.

"Aren't Harvard men rather poor sports?" they asked us.
"No," we replied, truthfully. "They always have appeared to us to be very good sports. Harvard yaps less in defeat and is more generous in victory than almost any institution we know."
"Why," they continued, "doesn't Harvard number its players?"
We explained that, as we understood it, Harvard held to the theory that numbering gave away a system of attack, and that by adopting it the advantage of deception plays would be lost.

"But," they replied, "other eleven use deception plays, and they number their men. Under the circumstances, does Harvard consider it sporting to take such an advantage?"
This was harder to answer.

As a matter of fact, that theory looks like nonsense, anyhow. In these days, when his football teams maintain a military intelligence department, the plays of one eleven are pretty well known to those of another. It was all right when Harvard first used its deceptive play, but now everybody's doing it. Other teams have attacks as well or better screened than that of the Crimson. Harvard is too big and broad an institution to permit itself to be an obstruction in the path of even football progress. Its lack of numbers didn't help against Princeton, and we doubt very much whether it will help against Yale.

Now that moving pictures are taken of games, a coach can get a set of stills and figure out the position of each man on the opposing eleven. Moreover, the success of an attack depends more upon proper timing and execution, mixed with variety and deception of the minute, than it does upon the opponents' lack of knowledge of any particular play or system. At the time when Pittsburgh was cleaning up all rivals Glen Warner was willing to diagram his plays before the game for an opposing coach. You may know when the president is going to take the rabbit out of the hat, but if he knows his business, you can't see how he does it.

THE WHITE SOX.
Texas is a large place, and the White Sox are taking advantage of the fact. They dig up a new town in Texas every year for their training camp. First it was Mineral Wells, then it was Waxahachie. Now it is Seguin. Seguin is about thirty-five miles from San Antonio.

PUGILISTIC VERSION.
"Oh, mother, may I be a champion fighter?"
"My boy, that's just the thing.
Go into the movies, you little blighter,
But don't go near the ring."

Investigators report that a sixth of the automobile accidents which occur at night are due to insufficient street lighting. We always thought that a lot of them were due to the fact that the drivers were lit.

It is to be hoped that Princeton will get some good material from this year's freshman class, because the Tigers are going to need the best to replace such football men as Wittman, Klock, Lourie, Garrity, Stinson and Hooper. It looks as if Roper had all of his racing machine left except the engine.

Harry Willis is to fight Denver Ed Martin at Portland, Ore., to-night. Willis certainly has to go a long way for a few minutes' exercise.

At Lindenwood College a girl broke a leg playing football. It is getting so that football is fully as dangerous as modern dancing.

In Cincinnati they are going to hold a six mile walking race on the morning of Thanksgiving Day. Looks like a brutal way to work up an appetite.

Centre to Play Harvard Again on Oct. 21, 1922
Will Meet One Week Earlier Than This Year.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 15.—Harvard athletic authorities have asked Centre College to reserve for a third football game here next fall the date two weeks before the Harvard-Princeton game, it was announced today. This date will be October 21, one week earlier than the game in high Centre defeated Harvard this year.

The statement that "Harvard bit off more than it could chew" in undertaking the stiff schedule of this season was made by a Crimson authority today in explaining the change. Many day in explaining the change. Many day in explaining the change. Many day in explaining the change.

Injuries to players were advanced as an evidence of this, and it was intimated that next year's team would not be called upon to meet so many strong teams successively.

The Yale and Princeton games are the season's objectives for Harvard and the preliminary game with Dartmouth is shaped more nearly to prepare for them than to supply new obstacles weekly.

DANVILLE, Ky., Nov. 15.—Centre officials announced today that acceptance of Harvard's invitation, received yesterday, will go forward within a short time.

Invitations for games also have been received by Centre from the University of Pennsylvania, Fordham and Northwestern. Chicago interests are said to be seeking a game between Notre Dame and Centre for Chicago. Two or three of the games probably will be scheduled, it was announced.

Colgate Arranges Game With Princeton for 1922.
Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. HASTON, N. Y., Nov. 15.—Announcement was made today by the athletic association of Colgate that Princeton again will appear on the Maroon's gridiron schedule. The game will be played at Princeton on October 14, 1922. Several of the strongest gridiron teams in the East were trying for this date, but it was held open for Colgate.

Negotiations are also under way for a game between Colgate and Dartmouth in 1922, but nothing definite has been decided as yet in regard to the continuation of gridiron relations between these institutions.

Lafayette Expects Hard Game With Lehigh Eleven.
Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. BARTON, Pa., Nov. 15.—Dr. "Joek" Sutherland, coach of the Lafayette College football team, expects a hard contest with Lehigh University in the annual game this Saturday at South Bethlehem, one which may be decided by a few points. With this belief Coach Sutherland this afternoon had Matt Brennan, the fall quarterback, enough in a long placement kick practice. Brennan missed from the 29 yard line and dropped back until he reached the yard mark. He had unusual success with his kicks.

The varsity and "Lehigh" teams took part in a dummy scrimmage this afternoon, the "Lehigh" eleven having the

HARVARD TRIES TO IMPROVE TACKLING

This Feature of Play Has Been Far From Satisfactory All Season.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 15.—With the Yale game only four days away there was no letup in Harvard's football drill this afternoon. The day was fine and the stadium field was in such shape that it could be used by the varsity eleven. Before going to the field, however, the coaches took the entire squad to the tackling dummies and here the session was strenuous. Harvard's tackling has been far from satisfactory all fall in spite of the fact that there has been more time spent on this fundamental than for years. In the games the team simply has not got the hang of holding to the runner with the ball.

Before the scrimmage with the scrubs all players are coached on the fine points of position play, particularly those laid out for Saturday's game and then came a lot of signal work with scrimmage with the scrubs was of the usual dummy variety, but the drilling was very thorough.

Sunday the scouts have passed since over the plays that Harvard against the Tigers and ones that had not been used in the earlier games. Prominent among these was the delayed pass play which worked so well against Princeton in last week's game and on which Aldrich once almost got clear for a touchdown.

The Crimson's attack is being made smooth and much time is being spent on the interference assignments. Harvard hopes to make up in speed and skill and knowledge of Yale's weak spots what it will lack in stamina. The confidence of the team is high, and everybody's doing it. Other teams have attacks as well or better screened than that of the Crimson. Harvard is too big and broad an institution to permit itself to be an obstruction in the path of even football progress. Its lack of numbers didn't help against Princeton, and we doubt very much whether it will help against Yale.

Today the eleven worked with Hartley at right end, Ladd at right tackle and Church at right halfback. The layout was the same as that which started the Princeton game ten days ago. Crocker, who doubtless will be in his old place when the game is over, did some work in the signal drill but kept out of the scrimmage. Tierney did not work on the line, confining himself to running about the side lines. Fitts was in the backfield combination with Owen and Chapin, and also with Coburn, but the Harvard kicker was not put there in fact, it is stated that Pitts did not run through the fast sign drill and the line and when the coaches were driving everyone in their effort to make things go at top speed.

The Yale team has asked for the use of the stadium Friday morning but may take it in the afternoon, now that Harvard has decided to send the team away from Cambridge for the day.

Denies Report Dartmouth Will Break With Penn
Three Year Contract With Green Is Being Considered.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 15.—Acting Graduate Manager of Athletics Busnell today admitted that Pennsylvania had asked Centre College to play at Franklin Field next fall, but that the offer has been refused by the Kentuckians.

There will be no break in football relations between Penn and Dartmouth. Busnell spoke reports circulating from Dartmouth to the effect that Penn, Dartmouth and Cornell were to drop Penn from their football schedules and play New York on Thanksgiving Day. He said:

"The Dartmouth management not only asked Penn to extend the present two year contract with a 'home and home' schedule, but also to have invited Penn to open its new two million dollar stadium at Hanover that will be completed in 1922."

"The committee is even now considering the new proposed three year contract received last week. This emphatically does not look as if Dartmouth is trying to end relations with Penn."

In preparing for the Cornell game, Coach Holmes put the varsity through a strenuous scrimmage this afternoon. All the regulars are in shape again. The team is in good condition. The varsity line is in good condition. The varsity line is in good condition.

Fordham Will Close Season Saturday at Springfield.
The football season of Fordham University will come to a close next Saturday with a game against Springfield College. The Maroon management has also given up all aspirations for a post-season game on December 3 at the Polo Grounds, as the team had been secured in the early part of the season.

Injuries continue to play havoc with the local outfit. It was but Monday that Sells, the best line plugging back on the team, was declared out of the game because of a broken ankle. Then for yesterday's session Coniff, first string quarter, and Moran, the best substitute line back, were both injured. Coniff has a bad wrist and will be unable to play against Springfield. Moran has developed a bad case of Saturday's game and will also be out of Saturday's game.

Fifteen Teams Will Start in Bicycle Race To-night
The cyclists will have their final night on the Madison Square Garden saucer track in a sprint carnival to be followed by the first of a series of twenty-four hour races. The big event starts at 11 P. M. The former begins at 8:30 o'clock. Sprints in the twenty-four hour affair will be held at 2 A. M. and 4 P. M. Thursday and the final mile will be devoted to sprints every mile.

The fifteen teams are paired as follows:
Columbia-Rutgers
Cornell-Brown
Harvard-Yale
Princeton-Dartmouth
Pennsylvania-Fordham
Lehigh-Colgate
Lafayette-Dartmouth
Syracuse-Cornell
Dartmouth-Princeton
Yale-Harvard
Brown-Cornell
Rutgers-Columbia

Miss Leitch on Way Home.
QUEBEC, Nov. 15.—Miss Cecil Leitch, holder of the British, French and Canadian women's golf championships, sailed today for Liverpool on the Empress of France. She was accompanied by her sister Edith.

Checker Match Postponed.
BOSTON, Nov. 15.—Postponement until January 3 of the world's championship checker match between Clarence Kolmar and Howard W. Barker was announced today. The match was to have been held early next month, but the postponement was due to the death of Barker's father. He will sail for England December 15.

Wins Boxing Title.
BOSTON, Nov. 15.—Eddie Shelvin of the Roxbury district regained the New England welterweight title to-night when he won a ten round decision bout from Mike Morley of Hartford, Conn. Shelvin was boxing instructor at Dartmouth College.

Hendricks to Practise Law.
INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 15.—Jack Hendricks, manager of the Indianapolis baseball club of the American Association, has been admitted to the bar here, and plans to engage in general law practice with his brother, Hendricks, formerly practised law in Chicago. He said he would not give up baseball, however, and will lead the Indians again next summer.

Harvard Men Rebel Over Ticket Scarcity

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 15.—Harvard's sophomore and freshmen are up in arms over the distribution of tickets for the Yale game. They complain that not only were they cut to one ticket, but they claim that in a few years the game with Yale will be for graduates only. Harvard Crimson promises to make a fight for better distribution after Saturday's game.

YANKEES LOSE OUT ON TRAINING CAMP

Accept Mineral Wells Terms, but Texas Town Takes in Cincinnati Reds.

By WILLIAM B. HANNA.
The Yankees won't train at Mineral Wells, Tex., next spring. They thought they were going to, but the Cincinnati Reds got in ahead of them. It was this way. The business office of the Yankees negotiated with the Chamber of Commerce of Mineral Wells, and it was the understanding in the Yankee office that the offer made by the Mineral Wells people would be held open until a decision had been made by the Yankees.

With that in mind the Yankee club, through Col. Huston, wired to the Texas town on Monday that the latter's terms were accepted. Much to the surprise of the New York club, however, a telegram was received yesterday expressing regret, but saying that arrangements had been closed with the Cincinnati club whereby the Reds would train at Mineral Wells. The Yankees, therefore, will have to look further for their training place, and the residents of Mineral Wells will have the pleasure of seeing such stars as Eddie Roush, Heinie Groh and Ivy Vinsco.

There is no doubt that the Yankees will have to look further for their training place, and the residents of Mineral Wells will have the pleasure of seeing such stars as Eddie Roush, Heinie Groh and Ivy Vinsco. Instead of such stars as Babe Ruth, Walter Hoyt and Carl Mays.

Mineral Wells is near Fort Worth and was used by the White Sox for several years. Wherever the Yankees train—and they won't be sure the next time until the papers are signed, sealed and delivered—they will play a series of games with the Cincinnati Reds. That much has been tacitly agreed on. The series will be three or five games and will interfere with a trip north with the Brooklyn Dodgers if the horrid rivals team up again, as they are expected to do.

The White Sox will train in Seguin, Tex., next spring. Seguin, Tex., is near San Antonio, Tex. So near that only a small part of Tex. will separate them from the Cincinnati Reds. The Yankees will play a series of games with the Cincinnati Reds. That much has been tacitly agreed on. The series will be three or five games and will interfere with a trip north with the Brooklyn Dodgers if the horrid rivals team up again, as they are expected to do.

It appears that on Monday the West Point coaches told the players of "their" coaches in the Villanova game. As the score was Army, 49; Villanova, 6, the mistakes seem not to have been fatal frequent or hopelessly incurable.

Robert Maxwell, football official, rates Killinger, the Penn State meteor, likewise the most voracious of all the marauding band of Nititty Lions, as a better back than either Ray or Haines of last year's eleven. Some people will regard that as nothing short of less majestic.

Speaking of Way, he was in the Canton-Cleveland professional game a short while last Saturday and did nothing of moment. He substituted at halfback for Canton, Canton beat Cleveland, 7 to 6, and Thorpe, with a fractured rib, made a few plays for Cleveland. He didn't get anywhere either. Kempton substituted at quarterback for Robb of Canton, and other former college stars in the game were Lowe, Corcoran, West, Henry, Whelan and Calace. In the Akron-Buffalo pro game the same day, there were such college figures as Pollard, Urban, Gray, Youngstrom, Spagna, Little, Miller, Anderson, Hughton and Oliphant.

Willie Hunter to Play in Amateur-Pro Golf
Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. PINEBURST, N. C., Nov. 15.—Willie Hunter's name was added today to the list of amateur entries for the new South American professional tournament to be held at Pinehurst on Friday and Saturday. With Hunter, Guilford and Cannon already in the lineup, the amateur field is well on its way to becoming a remarkably strong one.

Robert Crullshanks of Essex County and his amateur partner, Capt. R. H. Shuman of Yonkers, delivered a best ball of 67 on the championship course this afternoon in a four ball match played with Harry Hampton and Emmott French. Crullshanks turned in an individual 72. Cyril Walker also had a 72 here today and Pat Boyle a 73.

Penn Five to Play Navy for First Time
Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 15.—For the first time in the history of Penn basketball the Navy team will be seen here. The Red and Blue 1921-22 schedule announced today includes a game with the Navy to be played in Wrightman Hall January 29. The Army also is on the list, but will be met at West Point on December 15 as part of a short Northern trip, which will also include Syracuse on December 17.

Attell at Liberty.
ABE ATTOLL, former pugilist, of 162 West Fifty-fourth street, was freed yesterday in Special Sessions on a charge of selling a baseball game ticket unlawfully. He was not required to take the stand. He was arrested August 7 at Eighth Avenue and 156th Street by Detective Andrew Cummings, who alleged that he saw Attell hand a ticket to another man outside the Polo Grounds. Attoll was released on $500 bail. He is now at liberty.

Giants to Play White Sox.
Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—The Chicago White Sox of the American League and the New York Giants of the National League are planning a series of exhibition games while on their way north from southern training camps next year. It was announced today, following the return of Harry Graham, secretary of the White Sox from Brown, Texas, scene of the Sox 1922 training camp.

HONEST WRESTLING OR NONE IN GARDEN

This Is the Dictum of Rickard in Deciding to Fight Schemers to a Finish.

By CHARLES F. MATTHISON.
Declaring that John Pesek, whose foul tactics in his match with Martin Pestina at Madison Square Garden last Monday night disgusted the spectators and made a farce of the contest, was merely a tool in the hands of schemers determined to rule the wrestling game or kill it, Tex Rickard last night announced he would fight the plotters to a finish.

"It is as plain as can be," said the Garden promoter, "that Pesek was the tool of the crowd that has dominated the wrestling game for some time past. They wanted to make a farce of the first wrestling bouts under the auspices of the Garden, and they induced Pesek, who does not seem to be endowed with any too much intelligence, to pull their chestnuts out of the fire. They probably told Pesek the worst he would get would be disqualification. Now he is out of the game in this State in return for his foolish action, and will be the greatest sufferer. Those who egged him on are doubtless laughing in their sleeves."

"There is not the slightest doubt in the world that Pesek was 'ribbed' up by the schemers. They got up a story of a lame arm, which he could have used in the event he had been defeated on his merits. The way in which he used both arms in punching Pestina disproves the lame arm story. Finding that he had no chance to defeat Pestina on his merits, Pesek then carried out instructions to lose on a foul and make a farce of the contest."

"Now, just a word to the so-called wrestling trust. The members of that organization are going to wrestle honestly at Madison Square Garden or they are not going to wrestle anywhere in this State. I shall insist on honest wrestling or none at all. I have the assurance of Chairman Muldoon of the State Athletic Commission that he will sustain me in my efforts to compel wrestlers to compete on their merits."

Lewis and Zhyzsko Next.
"I have another important match for November 23, when Strander Lewis and Stanislaus Zhyzsko meet in contest. Contracts have been signed by all concerned and I will go on with the bout. I will also sign over boxing rights to have been planned. If they are on their merits, well and good. If not, the offenders will get the same dose that Pesek did."

Chairman Muldoon of the Commission evidently holds the opinion that Pesek was a tool for his implement of the exhibition of the game by revoking the license of Larney Lichtenstein, manager of Pesek. Lichtenstein, although several times ordered by Deputy O'Rourke to instruct Pesek to cease his foul work, apparently made no effort to comply with the orders. At any rate, if he did caution Pesek the latter paid not the slightest attention to his manager.

It is a significant fact that several weeks ago, as an act of kindness, the Garden wrestling bouts would be held in Madison Square Garden, there was a meeting of a majority of the managers of the leading wrestlers. It was asserted that Pesek was selected at that meeting to accept a match with Pestina.

As a result of the rough treatment Pestina received at the hands and head of Pesek the former has undergone treatment at the Manhattan Eye and Ear Hospital.

J. C. Marsh, manager of Pestina, who was suspended pending an investigation of his record, appeared before the State Athletic Commission yesterday and made a statement in his own behalf. The case was taken under advisement.

Fifty Per Cent. Champions.
Great injustice is being done to Bryan Downey, 50 per cent. champion of the middleweight class. Tom Andrews has offered a purse of $25,000 for what he terms a championship match between Mike Gibbons and Bryan Downey. The distance is placed at ten rounds. The only fair solution of the problem is to have Gibbons box five rounds with Wilson and five with Downey in the same ring. If Mike loses both then he thus becomes the 100 per cent. middleweight champion. If he beats only one of the half portion champions he thus becomes a 50 per cent. champion.

On top of the Andrews announcement comes a report that Young Hickey will box Wilson at the Star A. C. Once again Downey is overlooked. It is a fair discrimination against a well-fledged 50 per cent. title holder.

Dave Shade of San Francisco will meet Mickey Walker and Ziggy Smith in a main bout of twelve rounds at the Broad A. C. Newark, Monday night. Shade fought a draw with Jack Britton on the coast, while last summer Walker gave Britton a hard fight in Newark.
